WorldSkills Australia 2010 National Competition was held in Brisbane from May 7 to May 9 and the number of people that turned up to watch the country's best apprentices at work was truly amazing. Perhaps it was the very clever 'try a trade' that was offered by many industries that allowed young people to have a go or maybe it was the free silver earring you could make at the jewellery section; at first I thought they must have been giving away gold bars, but closer inspection showed that you could walk up and make a pair of earring, then walk off with them. Congratulations to Jane Foster, Peter Keep, Darren May, Lee Pownall and Andrew Rose for their awesome effort leading up to and during the competition! And of course the reason they were there...congratulations to the winners;

Gold	Halina Kaufman	Joyce Jewellers	Tasmania
Silver	Ashley Naumann	Maleny Jewellers	Queensland
Bronze	Erin Londish	Lane Gem and Jewellery	New South Wales

The Australian Government has an incentive scheme called 'Tools for your Trade Payment' paid as five tax exempt cash payments totalling $3,800 over the life of the Australian Apprenticeship. BUT only those apprentices in an industry deemed to have a skills shortage are eligible for this scheme. Would you believe that the Australian Government does not think the Jewellery Industry suffers from a skills shortage? Peter Keep from Central TAFE in WA has been trying very hard to gather support for Jewellery Apprentices to be included in this scheme and we urge you to support his effort. If you feel there is a skills shortage in our industry, we have a petition you are welcome to sign or if you prefer perhaps we can suggest a few choice word you may like to write to our government.

Please feel free to contact us if you would like more information.

Regards, Ian Martin
